

Mother Theresa

Six beautiful kittens ago, I was a stray cat living at, of all places, a doggie daycare! I would sneak in and out from under the storage shed to do my hunting and my courting. Then, when the babies were born, some rescuers came and took all of us to a cattery at a foster home. We lived happily together as a family there, sometimes sharing the cattery with an occasional foster dog: Corky, Pokadot, Spanky.....some of those dogs have new homes now, and all of my kittens do, too. So now, it's time for Mother to find a home!

My name is Mother Theresa and I am a polite, gentle, clean Calico lady. I am spayed and up to date on all my shots, and I'm free of all those awful diseases that plague some stray cats. I'm a first-class mouser and I enjoy the company of other cats. I even tolerate dogs as long as they aren't too pushy. Most people figure I am pretty young, maybe a couple years old. So I have many years of purring and snuggling in store for someone in my future. I enjoy lying in a sunny window or sleeping in a special hiding spot, and I always greet my humans with a gentle rub against the leg whenever they enter the room. My foster parents say I am the perfect feline companion!

Do you have a sunny window that needs a cat? Maybe I can help you.....
