

Pokadot !

I'm about 30 lbs. and 2 years old. I'm heartworm negative and up to date on all my shots. I'm not spayed yet because I weaned so recently. But don't worry! The Animal Support Project will spay me soon. I'm kind to everyone: cats, children, men and women, as well as other dogs. I'm good in the house and enjoy sleeping curled up on the couch next to a person. One thing I do require is a good, tall fence around my yard, because, like all hounds, I do like to wander and I'm a good climber.

What I'd like more than anything is to find another family who would love me forever and not discard me like the last one. I'm tired of living on my own and miss the peace and stability of a real home.

If you'd like a sweet loyal friend to come home to each night, could you please call me?

Of course, I know the rescuer down south who named me made a mistake in spelling my name. But I love that lady and I keep my name just as she made it. It makes me kinda special, I think. I'm a very gentle, graceful little hound mix who just weaned five beautiful pups. I still miss them, but I know I raised them right, just like my Mama raised me. So I am sure they will be great pets just like I was before my family dumped me at the bus depot. Folks do that a lot with female dogs where I come from.

While I was living in the culvert at the bus depot, I met up with a handsome blue-eyed husky mix named Sinatra. He was a homeless dog like me. We set up housekeeping and well, after awhile, I got pregnant. Local rescuers took me and my pups away to a foster home. I can still see Sinatra crying and chasing our car as we drove away from the bus depot. I hear he's still hanging around there but I don't imagine we'll ever meet again.
